Relational Technology Solutions Expands Cleveland Operations with Key Addition to Company's Sales Organization

Cleveland Ohio, June 02, 2009 – Relational Technology Solutions (RTS), one of the largest independent technology leasing and technology solutions providers in North America, today announced the appointment of Tom Waterman as national account manager at the company's Cleveland office.

Since its establishment in 2001, RTS's Cleveland operation provides information and enterprise technology solutions amongst local organizations in the fields of consumer packaged goods, financial services, food services/restaurants, healthcare, insurance, and manufacturing.

RTS is committed to supporting these and other verticals by delivering customer-centric solutions from leading vendors and providing full-service technology lifecycle management encompassing technology acquisition, finance, and disposition.

"We are excited to have Tom Waterman join RTS", said Wayne Ianuario, RTS vice president of sales. "He brings with him more than 30 years of successful sales and management experience in the telecommunications industry."

Waterman has focused on the Ohio region in both outside sales and sales management roles at Avaya, Lucent Technologies and AT&T. He also spent five years as a national account manager for Expanets, a Platinum Avaya Business Partner. Waterman has an extensive footprint in both the manufacturing and healthcare industries. Some of the key accounts that he has supported previously include Premier Farnell, Polyone, Moen, Sterling Jewelers, and Roadway Express.

“As we continue to grow our Sales organization, the key to success is to stay focused on providing exceptional service to our clients at all times, especially in this challenging economic environment,” continued Ianuario. “Tom will play a major role in this regard, as his technology expertise and local relationships will both be key components of our continual expansion in the Cleveland market.”
